How do we collect information from you?

We obtain information about you when you apply for EARSeL membership or when you ask to be placed on the EARSeL e-mail distribution list for any EARSeL information via e-mail, in person or in another way.

What type of information is collected from you?

The personal information we collect might include your name, address, e-mail address, web site, telephone number and affiliation. For the e-mail distribution list we only store name and e-mail address.

How is your information used?

We may process your personal information in the following ways:

- To publish your name, institution, country, your email address, and web site in our publicly available membership list;
- To send you any relevant information related to the association itself, its events as well as events of its members
- To send regular association news and the annual membership invoices to our Members.

Who has access to your information?

We will not sell nor rent nor make your information available in any other way to third parties.

How long is your information kept for?

We keep your information for no longer than is necessary for the purposes it was collected for. The length of time we retain your personal information for is determined by operational and legal considerations.

How you can access and update your information

The accuracy of your information is important to us. Member data are administrated at the EARSeL headquarters; they are visible on the EARSeL website.

For updates, please contact the EARSeL headquarters on secretariat@earsel.org.

Your rights

In compliance with the provisions under Chapter III, Section I, GDPR, you may exercise the rights therein indicated and in particular:

- Right of Access – Obtain confirmation whether your data are processed or not and, in such a case, obtain information related, in particular, to: the purposes of such processing, the categories of the processed personal data, the storage period, the recipients to whom such data can be transferred (Section 15, GDPR);
- Right of Rectification – Obtain, without undue delay, the rectification of inaccurate personal data and to have incomplete personal data completed (Section 16, GDPR);
- Right of Erasure – Obtain, without undue delay, the erasure of your personal data, in the cases provided for by the GPDR (Section 17, GDPR);
- Right to Restriction – Obtain from the Controller the limitation to processing, in the cases provided for by the GDPR (Section 18, GDPR);
- Right to Data Portability – Receive your personal data as communicated to the Controller in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and obtain the transmission of such data to another controller without any hindrance, in the cases provided for by the GDPR (Section 20, GDPR);
- Right to object – Object to the processing of your personal data, unless the Controller have compelling legitimate grounds for the continuation of the processing (Section 21, GDPR);

EARSeL Members may exercise such rights by means of a request to be sent by email to secretariat@earsel.org. Please note that EARSeL needs a minimum of information to pursue its goals. Therefore, exercising some of these rights, such as the right of erasure, may result in a cancellation of membership according to the statutes of EARSeL.

Transferring your information outside of Europe

As part of the services offered to you through this website, the information that you provide to us may be transferred to countries outside the European Union (“EU”). These countries may not have similar data protection laws to the EU. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing. If we transfer your information outside of the EU in this way, we will take steps to ensure that appropriate security measures are taken with the aim of ensuring that your privacy rights continue to be protected as outlined in this Notice.
